Radiocom reserves the right to effect part shipments.

Whilst Radiocom will endeavour to meet indicated times of delivery where specified in the Equipment Order such times are not binding and Radiocom shall not be responsible for any claims arising from delivery delays howsoever caused. Should delivery be delayed by any reason the written communication of readiness for despatch by Radiocom to the Customer shall be considered the revised date of delivery. In default of any written communication of inability to take prompt delivery by the Customer, the products shall be deemed accepted on such date.

Unforeseeable events incurred through no fault of Radiocom or extraordinary events at Radiocom or its subcontractors or other impediments impossible for Radiocom to foresee shall entitle Radiocom to defer the date of delivery for a period equal to the time lost by reason of such event or impediment.

The Customer will be deemed to have accepted the Equipment if no notice of defect is given within 7 calendar days. Customer shall pay a restocking fee of 30% (thirty percent) on cancellation of an order or part of an order plus a £25 administration fee.

Where a delivery has been refused by Customer or its representative or incorrect delivery details have been provided by Customer, Radiocom will charge for redelivery at the normal rate.

Radiocom will program equipment in accordance with Ofcom licence. Where additional features over and above the standard programming are required, it is the customer's responsibility to ensure that they inform the account manager. Should additional programming be required following delivery, Radiocom will be entitled to charge for the additional labour.

In the event that the Customer wishes to cancel or re-arrange an engineering visit, Radiocom requires a minimum of five working days written notice prior to the agreed visit date. Within this five day period, Radiocom reserves the right to charge a cancellation fee which at its sole discretion may be up to the full value of the cost of work cancelled including but not limited to labour, transport, equipment hire and accommodation. Cancellation outside the five-day period may still at Radiocom's absolute discretion incur a cancellation charge for costs committed but deemed irrecoverable.

In the case of installation of equipment including base stations, desk top radios, vehicle mobile radios, aerials and such like, the order is completed by the signature of the acceptance document by the Customer or its representative.

All returns/deliveries to Radiocom are received and signed for on an 'unchecked' basis. A proof of delivery will only confirm receipt of a package(s) and not its contents.
